Why should you conduct a home inventory?

Taking stock of your home contents will provide a detailed record of all the items lost or damaged in the event of a loss. It will also place a more accurate value on your possessions, which will help determine the amount of insurance you need.

PRO Tips for Taking Stock

Take photos of each room in your house, as well as any high value items – including jewelry, designer apparel, fur garments, fine art, heirlooms, medical devices, electronics, stereo equipment, appliances, etc. Keep high value receipts with this record, and store digitally or in a safe place away from your home.

If you have any questions, contact your PROLINK broker.
